Ghostdog I (1993) is a psychological action thriller starring Dennis Farina, Jason Patric and Zach Galligan. The film was directed by Thomas Michael Kidd and was produced by David S. magmasoftmagma5254 The film stars Dennis Farina and Patrick Labyorteaux. The film's name is as the title suggests, a parody of the horror genre film - usually of the slasher variety - with the regular characters of slashers, to which is applied through the release of a film in the aftermath of a disaster. The film took some inspiration from John Carpenter's Halloween, which also was released in 1978. Characteristically, the slasher's killings are set around Halloween, and his victims are often children. The plot of the film is as follows: Pierce Terwilliger (Patrick Labyorteaux) is a divorced father and a student at a boarding school. He has no family and is overwhelmed with the huge responsibility of caring for his toddler son, Billy. He falls in love with a local girl named Sarah and she agrees to marry him after he proves that he can provide for her financially. Pierce and Sarah then get a divorce, and Sarah moves in with her boyfriend Alan (John Byrum). In the meantime, Billy begins to suffer from strange nightmares that worsen as time goes by, in addition to his ever-changing behaviour and ability to adapt as she changes. It is revealed that Billy is a clone and if that is the case, he must be raised by his father Pierce, as his mother died at birth. As Billy's nightmares worsen, he begins to act out violently and is eventually diagnosed with being a psychopath. magmasoftmagma5254 A typical victim of a true slasher would be strangers in the dark and in the dark in a deserted place, or car in which the child was alone. As a matter of fact, the famous Leatherface from the film was never a male. The film was originally titled Halloween after the
