This add-on allows the player to drive a unique locomotive that was manufactured by Southern Pacific Railroad during the 1960s and 1970s. The locomotive in question is the New Mexico SD45 - the world's last diesel-electric locomotive built in the USA. This locomotive, built in 1972, saw extensive testing in the USA and Australia and carried the most powerful locomotive known to railroads up until that point - 800hp. The New Mexico SD45 was built in response to the UK's mainline steam locomotive fleet's electrification plans. The locomotive proved very successful and was heralded as a milestone in diesel-electric technology. The locomotive was built with a water-cooled turbocharged Y10PH-TCR400 diesel engine and was the first diesel-electric locomotive to be coupled to electric haulage equipment in the Southern Pacific. It hauled passenger and freight service along America's broadest stretches of track, with much of the system being upgraded to high-speed diesel/electrics. What's new in The Maze: Humanity:

(Judoka Douga) Synopsis (English) Thank you very much to Mistria, Pearl, The Knight, Chunky Butterfly, and Mr. Yoshio for the translation. Not a bad thing if you're looking for a translation of the OVA of the original anime you can watch online! Read the rest of the Plot here! :D Plot (English) Just like the full anime, more backstory. The planet of "Nite", which exists in another world. The planet's inhabitants acknowledge the existence of the planet "Akranth". The inhabited lands of all species form "Greater Akranth", the planet's only huge continent, which is divided into "natural" and "human" parts. Non-humans who don't live in Greater Akranth have a segregation area, "The moors". Nite is divided into three regions, "The Belt of the Night", the "Nite of the North", and the "Nite of the South". The three areas are distinguished by the living environment, and the 3rd region encompasses human lands and their surrounding surroundings, having everything the humans have. The Belt of the Night (黒帯 Kanshū), a dark and cold area bathed in a perpetual twilight, is the home of Akranth's population, and is home to many odd races. Great Akranth is the birthplace of mankind, and the "sword of their ancestors" is kept in the city of "Arlon" (アロン), which is named after the planet Arlen. From human ancestors, the Nite race was born. It is said that Akranth originated from oceans. The "sea of darkness" (黒海, Okukai), which is said to encircle Akranth, is thought to be the reflection of the planet Nite itself: an extremely dense mass of stone and water inhabited by strange creatures. The "Sea of Light" (白海, Hanai no Oku), in which humanity lives, is a less dense region in the right-hand side of the main continent: a paradise of vegetation, water, and life. Nite's human population has dispersed and lives in many cities; it is "Greater Akranth" where the population numbers are the largest. Story (Japanese) During the reign of the Great Lord, a young man named Arau, who is younger than Bok
